

Florence Felter and Billie Lewis Marry

Last Saturday morning in St. Mary's Cathedral where Msgr. Leo Kampmann officiated Miss Florence Frances Felter became the bride of Billie Jay Lewis.

Palms and a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and pompons decorated the church for the double ring ceremony. Sister Alexis Marie was the organist and Joseph Sciortino was the vocalist.

The bride and bridegroom are the daughter and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Killian G. Felter, 811 South Sprigg. Mrs. Fred Lewis, 819 West Cape Rock Drive and the late Mr. Lewis.

Mr. Felter gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a silk linen gown with embroidered medallions at the empire waistline and outlining a panel train attached with a bow to the bell-shaped, floor-length skirt.

An imported, elbow-length veil with handrolled edges was held by a cluster of orange blossoms. Her cascading stephanotis and pompons were centered with an orchid.

Attending her were Mrs. James L. Pettigrew of Hazelwood, who was matron of honor, and Mrs. Claude Hosea Jr. of Scott City. They wore street-length dresses of mint green silk brocade and carried pink carnations and pompons in cascade bouquets.

Mr. Lewis' attendants were his best man, Robert W. Roth and Harold J. Werner. Seating guests were the bridegroom's brother, Francis F. Lewis; the bride's brother, Charles W. Felter, Dr. E. L. Bahn Jr. and Clarence A. Lohmann.

Host and hostess at a luncheon and reception in the cathedral dining room after the ceremony were the bride's parents.

Sterling silver candelabra and a bowl held white tapers and pink and white carnations on the bride's table. On small tables covered with white were pink carnation-filled vases.

Serving were Miss Barbara Howard and Miss Susan Young. Miss Bonnie Sue Leible of Kelso and Miss Lynette Lewis were at the guest book.

For the couple's trip south the bride wore a two-piece blue dress and the orchid from her bouquet. On their return they will live at 2521 Meadow lane.

The bride is a nurse at St. Francis Hospital. She was graduated from St. Joseph School of Nursing in Memphis, Tenn., and the former St. Mary's High School, now Notre Dame. Her husband, an associate of Wimpy's, Inc., attended State College. He graduated at Central High School.
