

TO THE VOTERS OF CAPE GIRARDEAU COUNTY

We Present the Candidacy of

TED R. REGENHARDT

FOR COUNTY COLLECTOR

1. Descendant of Wm. Regenhardt, a pioneer in the early development of Cape Girardeau County.
2. Son of Edward F. Regenhardt, a prominent Republican and building contractor—a man highly recognized as an outstanding citizen of Cape Girardeau County.
3. Born, reared and educated in Cape Girardeau.
4. Married in 1923 to Miss Lois McNeely, daughter of John T. and Jennie McNeely, lifelong and highly respected citizens of Leemon community. Father of two children and grandfather.
5. Built home at 101 S. W. End Boulevard shortly after marriage, where he now resides.
6. Member of Home Guard during First World War and later a member of The National Guard—140th Infantry. During Second World War spent about two years building Airports in Central America and thereafter joined the Navy Seabees, serving one and one-half years in the South Pacific. Hospitalized as result of his difficult and strenuous service in the tropical areas.
7. Following World War Two, unable to resume a position with contracting firm due to impaired health, he ran for Collector and was elected with a large vote.
8. While serving the citizens of Cape Girardeau County as Collector with unusual efficiency, he has been active in various voluntary services, such as Chairman of the American Red Cross—Teacher of Sunday School Class—Member of the Official Church Board—Member of Hospital Board of Trustees and in other capacities.

We recommend re-election of Ted R. Regenhardt for Collector because of his record of fairness, courtesy, efficiency and fine conduct in this most important office.
